In Washington: The 500-foot Chihuly Bridge of Glass in Tacoma was built across the Thea Foss Waterway in 2002 by native artist Dale Chihuly.

Washington

Walk across a one-of-a-kind work of art in Tacoma, where the 500-foot Chihuly Bridge of Glass, built by native glass artist Dale Chihuly in 2002, spans the Thea Foss Waterway. The blue pedestrian-only bridge connects the city's three museums — Washington State History Museum, Tacoma Art Museum and the Museum of Glass; admission to all three is free every third Thursday. 800-272-2662, chihuly.com/bridgeofglass — Chris Gray Faust
